

Our country was founded on principles of openness and fairness in our democracy, and of rule by the people. This cannot continue when one company or a few companies control all of the media outlets.

It is extremely important that the American people be able to have access to a broad range of viewpoints and information on various issues so that they can make informed decisions.

It is extremely important that there be local stations so that in emergencies the stations can be rapidly contacted to spread up to the minute information to their listeners, to avoid tragedies.

It is extremely important that our artists not be pressured to conform to arbitrary standards and that they be allowed freedom.

It is important to maintain media separation and not to deregulate further.

Sincerely,

Richard Campbell.
